COURSE INFORMATION:
As you can appreciate, this year’s Ocular Motility Conference format has been affected by the current COVID-19 pandemic.

As it stands, the capacity for attendees is 30. Registrations will be accepted as they are received, and a notification will be sent out once maximum capacity is reached.

Mock OSCE’s are not possible, so we have altered our program and content to be in line with the changes to the exam format for registrars.

We will be using video case studies throughout the two-day conference and will set aside time to allow practice under exam conditions, in preparation for your upcoming assessments.

Unfortunately, we will not be able to facilitate an online format for attending the conference.

Should there be any change to restrictions, prohibiting us from delivering the course to full capacity, occur leading up until the proposed dates in March 2021, then we will opt to postpone the course until such time that the number restrictions ease again.

All attendees will be screened upon entry through St Vincent’s Private Hospital. At this stage, the wearing of masks will not be mandatory, however, we will advise any changes around this leading up to conference dates.
